

How to add/change default colors

1. Make a backup of the original .json file.
2. Using color wheel or program of your choice, pick a color. You can get the RGB values from Windows Paint - Edit colors . Sometimes I use <https://color.adobe.com/create/color-wheel> to pick my color. The advantage to this is that it gives me not just the RGB values but the Hexadecimal (Hex) value In this case it's 9b428d.
3. You need the Hex value in order to convert to the base10 or decimal value, which you will use in the .json file. If you don't have the Hex value, you can look it up online. I use this site: https://www.w3schools.com/colors/colors\_rgb.asp. Enter the RGB values and get the equivalent Hex value. You can also use this site to pick your color.
4. Convert your Hexadecimal value 9b428d to base10. There are several sites you can use. One is <https://www.unitconverters.net/numbers/hexadecimal-to-base-10.htm> and another is <https://www.free-online-calculator-use.com/hex-to-decimal-converter.html>. Hexadecimal #9b428d = base10 10175117.
5. Edit your .json file. I use Notepad++. Find the tattoo, for example:

{"name": "Slave (forehead)", "section": "Slave Marks", "texture": "basic\\forehead_slave.dds", "area": "Face"}, at the end of the line, before the bracket (}), add the following:

,"color":10175117,"glow":10175117,"gloss":0

The result will be:

{"name": "Slave (forehead)", "section": "Slave Marks", "texture": "basic\\forehead_slave.dds", "area": "Face", "color":10175117,"glow":10175117,"gloss":0},
6. If you don't want the glow color to be the same as the base color, repeat steps 1-3 to get your glow color.
7. If you want your tattoo glossy, change "gloss":0 to "gloss":1.
8. After you make all your changes, save. If you want to doublecheck the code to make sure you didn't miss a comma or something, you can always use a checker such as <https://jsonlint.com/>.
9. You should now be good to go.
